Fine Administration Enters Sales Tax Fight

Democrat's State Job Threatened

Harrisburg (AP)—A threat to a Democratic House member that he would lose his state job came yesterday as the first indication that Gov. John S. Fine is seeking Democratic support for the 1 per cent levy.

Rep. Henry Cianfrani (D-Phil) said he was told he would be fired by the governor from his $2,970 a year position unless he withdrew his opposition from the sales tax.

The threat, he said, was relayed to him by David M. Walker, labor and industry secretary, under whom he works as a senior claim adjuster with the State Workmen's Insurance Fund.

Cianfrani, on leave from his state job while serving in the House, said he blunted the threat by telling Walker that he would remain against the sales tax.

Walker said he has recommended Cianfrani's dismissal on grounds that his opposition to the sales tax is "not compatible" with the policy of the state administration. He said he had no quarrel with Cianfrani's work in the department.

Walker said that dismissal of a state worker must go through the governor's office.

"As far as I'm concerned, he's going," Walker said, adding that it is in the works although it is not yet accomplished.

Meanwhile, a second day of conferences on the sales tax impasse failed to produce results.

Fine met with Republican legislative leaders for a short time and then recessed the session until today.

The governor took time out, however, to blame Pennsylvania's tax difficulties on the commonwealth's 73-year-old Constitution.

"Restrictions on taxation, particularly in the uniformity clause, interferes seriously with the development of a sound tax program," he told Tax Institute, Inc., a study group.

Fine also took a slap at the 1947 local tax law which authorizes municipalities and school districts to tax a host of subjects not already taxed by the state.

The local tax law was conceived by U. S. Sen. James H. Duff when he was governor in 1947.

"When the legislature considers a new tax, it finds in nearly all cases local governments have beaten them to it," Fine told the Tax Institute.

Rep. H. G. Andrews, Home Democratic leader, was joined by Sen. John H. Dent, Senate Democratic leader, in describing as "sinister demagoguery" a statement issued Wednesday by Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, Republican state chairman.

Taylor said Democrats would "wreck" Pennsylvania's school system unless they withdraw their opposition to the sales tax.

Maintaining that the 98-cent House Democratic bloc will continue to be against the sales tax, Andrews replied:

"Pennsylvania's General Assembly will not adjourn until provision has been made to advance every legitimate need of the commonwealth," he said.

Dent said Democrats refuse to accept the blame for the failure of the Republican party to extricate itself from the miserable mess that it finds itself in because of political doubletalk."

Fine was unavailable to newsmen on Cianfrani's disclosure that he has been threatened dismissal.

Insult Added To Injury For Wene

Philipburg, N. J. (AP)—It's bad enough to be beaten by barely 1,500 votes in a statewide gubernatorial primary election.

But to be fined $10 and costs on a traffic violation in your victorious opponent's home town—that's a bit thick, as the British would say.

It happened to Elmer H. Wene, Vineland check breeder and veteran Democratic politician, last night.

Wene was defeated in the April 21 Democratic primary by Robert B. Meynery, Phillipsburg lawyer.

Canada Not Bluffing

Washington, (AP)—Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent said yesterday Canada is anxious to start digging the St. Lawrence seaway and is "not bluffing" about going it alone if the United States continues to hang back.

Father Accused Of Second Degree Murder In Death Of Five-Year-Old Swimming Star

Miami, Fla., (AP)—A warrant accusing Russell Tongay of second degree murder in the death of his swimming star daughter, Kathy, 5, was issued last night shortly after the bronzed swimming instructor was released from city jail on a writ of habeas corpus.

Det. Charles A. Sapp of the Miami homicide bureau ordered the 36-year-old ex-Coast Guardsman and swimming instructor held after an autopsy report showed Kathy died from a ruptured intestine caused by a blow.

Lt. Chester Eldredge, chief of the homicide bureau, said earlier that Kathy "apparently suffered an extremely brutal beating about 24 hours before she died."

Sapp said Tongay did not make any admissions during the one hour and 20 minutes he was questioned by detectives working in relays.

Tongay was taken from police headquarters to the 16th floor jail across the street where Sapp said he would be held overnight and formal charges filed today.

Kathy, who learned to swim before she could walk and recently played a big part in a movie, suffered convulsions Wednesday and died enroute to a hospital.

Tongay said he is hard of hearing and insisted that all police questions directed at him be in writing. After each question, he wrote his answer. Eldredge indicated the questioning might take hours to complete.

Eldredge said an autopsy showed Kathy, who would have been six years old on May 22, died of a ruptured intestine caused by a blow suffered 24 hours before the time of death.

"The girl had apparently suffered an extremely brutal beating," he said. "She was bruised all over and had a ruptured intestine."

The actual cause of the child's death, Eldredge added, was infection caused by the discharge from the ruptured intestine.

Tongay, who started the swimming careers of Kathy and her older brother, Bubba, at the age of 10 months, frequently had been criticized for starting the children so young and for his handling of their careers. He said his children loved swimming and it was simply part of their nature.

The arrest came shortly after an autopsy was completed on the body of the flaxen-haired girl who swam so well she got a bit part in a movie and almost attempted to swim the English Channel.

Tongay's oldest child, Russell Jr., died in 1945. A doctor testified at an inquest that death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage, probably brought on by a head injury.

Invasion Forces Withdraw

Washington, (AP)—The flow of American guns, tanks, planes and other military equipment to Allied nations around the world will be stepped up sharply during the coming months, Secretary of Defense Wilson said yesterday.

Wilson gave this report to a closed-door meeting of senators as Gen. Omar N. Bradley, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, told a group of House members, also in closed session, that Russia's "atomic capability is rapidly improving."

"I know of no intelligence," Bradley said, "which reveals any change in attitude on the part of the Soviet Union or which would give us any reason to diminish, or slow down, or stretch out our preparedness effort."

Wilson told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee that the Eisenhower administration hopes to deliver five billion dollars worth of military supplies to Allied nations during the fiscal year starting July 1.

He said this would be an increase of $1,200,000,000 over the $3,800,000,000 in actual deliveries during the current 12-month period.

Wilson said the foreign shipments will represent roughly 10 percent of total military spending in the new Eisenhower budget.

"This is the best solution to the problem of defense," he added.

Along the same lines, Gen. Twining said of the other free nations: "To a large extent our security is dependent upon their security."

"The risk continues to be great," Bradley added. "The possibility of war is still with us. Both conditions will exist as long as our defenses are relatively weak."

Both Wilson and Bradley went to Capitol Hill to urge approval of President Eisenhower's request for $5,828,000,000 in new foreign aid funds.

Value Of Surplus Farm Products Rises In Year

Washington, (AP)—Bulky volumes of printed words disclosed yesterday how Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) accused James Wechsler of a "phony break" with Communism and how the New York Post Editor fired back protests of intimidation and "brain washing."

Charges of smearing and lying were batted back and forth in hours of battling between the senator who crusades against what he calls Communist subversion and the new-paperman who says he now is just as anti-Communist as he is anti-McCarthy.

McCarthy and Wechsler confronted each other in closed hearings of the Senate investigations subcommittee April 24 and May 3.

McCarthy released a stenographic transcript of the sessions yesterday, minus a list of persons Wechsler named as Communists or members of the Young Communist League at the time the editor belonged to the YCL years ago.

Wechsler swore his break with Communism in 1937 at the age of 22 was sincere, complete and profound. He cited writings and actions and supplied numerous documents for the record, as proof of his change.

"I may say," McCarthy told him, "that your purported reformation does not convince me at all."

The largest single item is $1,125,000,000 in wheat.

Ike Speaks Out Against Empty Peace

New York, (AP)—President Eisenhower said last night the United States "must stay strong to stay free" and must never pursue a foreign policy which amounts merely to reaction to the policy of other nations.

Tongay, who started the swimming careers of Kathy and her older brother, Bubba, at the age of 10 months, frequently had been criticized for starting the children so young and for his handling of their careers. He said his children loved swimming and it was simply part of their nature.

The arrest came shortly after an autopsy was completed on the body of the flaxen-haired girl who swam so well she got a bit part in a movie and almost attempted to swim the English Channel.

Tongay's oldest child, Russell Jr., died in 1945. A doctor testified at an inquest that death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage, probably brought on by a head injury.

They did not know, the President added, that the nation had been "robbed" of security in that field.

He apparently was alluding to espionage in the U. S. and Great Britain which gave America's atomic secrets to Russia.

It was decided to call a special meeting for consideration of a master budget for the joint school system on Thursday, May 14, at which time the board expects to begin discussion of a potential site for its secondary school again.

Eisenhower was introduced by Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York and got a bowing ovation before he began his first major political speech since taking office Jan. 20.

Dewey hailed the Eisenhower administration as representing what he called a return to a "woodshed honesty in government." He said the people of the U. S. have been yearning for that kind of government for a great many years and that "at last they have it."

In talking of world peace, the President declared no peace can be sound if it is "partial and pyrrhic"—an empty peace."

Referring to the Korean War, he said any peace there must be fair to both the people of Korea and to those seeking political asylum."

That seemed to be a reference to the Communist prisoners of war who have said they do not want to be repatriated.

Lower Defense Budget Offered

Washington (AP)—The Eisenhower administration yesterday sent to Capitol Hill its defense budget calling for about $2,400,000,000 less spending by the Defense Department in the next fiscal year than President Truman had proposed.

The Truman budget called for spending about 46 billion dollars. Rep. Wigglesworth (R-Mass.) of a House appropriations subcommittee said reductions in new appropriations for the department would total about $5,100,000,000.

The cut in actual spending will be smaller than this because some money appropriated in previous years will be spent in the coming fiscal year, which begins July 1, 1953.

The new appropriations asked by the administration would break down this way:

Army, $13,671,000,000; Navy, $9,650,000,000; Air Force, $11,688,000,000; office of the defense secretary, $1,025,625,000.

The budget cuts may put a crimp in the Air Force program to increase its strength from 100 to 145 wings during the next two years.

Officials Hunt Plane Gangplank For Eisenhowers

State College (AP)—A couple of airline officials are hunting for an airport gangplank so that President and Mrs. Eisenhower won't have to leap from their plane when they fly to Central Pennsylvania this weekend.

It seems that while testing the Black Moshannon Airport at nearby Philipsburg, where the Eisenhower party will land Saturday, they found no movable stairway large enough for the presidential plane.

A Constellation, similar to the President's Columbine, made test takeoffs and lands Wednesday along the main runway of the field built during the last war for emergency use. But since there was no ladder, passengers had to jump from the airplane's doorway.

Joint Board Plans Renewed Site Discussion

Brodheadsville—Pleasant Valley Joint Board met at Chestnut Hill High School here last night.

After a two and one-half hour executive session from which the public was barred, the board began its regular, open meeting at 10 p. m.

Due to size of the audience the regular meeting was held in the high school auditorium. Minutes of the last regular and special budget meetings were read and approved.

A committee on hiring additional teachers was appointed by individual board presidents. Members were R. Newton Davenport, Chestnut Hill; David Griffiths, Polk; Arlington Smith, Eldred; Clayton Snyder, Ross and John Van Buskirk, Hamilton.

It was decided to call a special meeting for consideration of a master budget for the joint school system on Thursday, May 14, at which time the board expects to begin discussion of a potential site for its secondary school again.

President Tom Rogers then threw the meeting open to questions from the floor.

Bodies Of 3 Women Taken From Ship

Harwich, England, (AP)—Workers piled the bodies of three women probably all American tourists from the debris-littered hull of the Duke of York here yesterday. One had died, screaming in the dark, with her legs pinned by a heavy piece of metal.

The point on which the negotiators have been stuck is what to do about the approximately 48,500 prisoners of war held by the U. N. Command who have been reported unwilling to return to Communist rule.

However, it was also understood that there was a general feeling that the plan offered a basis for further negotiations. The U. N. Command undoubtedly will be instructed, after further consideration, to make counter proposals.

Last night the administration reportedly sent a message to Gen. Mark Clark, U. N. commander in Tokyo, asking his reaction to the Communist proposition and his advice on what steps might be taken in future negotiations. The next meeting of the truce conference at Panmunjom is scheduled for Saturday, Korean Time.

The plan—thrown out yesterday at an hour when the truce talks were apparently stalled—bowed to Allied insistence that 48,500 North Koreans and Chinese prisoners who refuse to return to Red rule be kept in Korea.

It also proposed a five-power commission of Sweden, Switzerland, Poland, Czechoslovakia and India to act as caretaker for the prisoners. This is similar to the India plan which the Reds once coldly rejected.

What made the United Nations Command cautious was a possibility that somewhere in the formula is a camouflaged way for the Reds to get back all those 48,500 whether they want to return or not.

The plan—thrown out yesterday at an hour when the truce talks were apparently stalled—bowed to Allied insistence that 48,500 North Koreans and Chinese prisoners who refuse to return to Red rule be kept in Korea.

The New Jersey, the cruiser Bremerton and the destroyer Twining steamed defiantly into Wonsan Harbor and cut loose a tremendous charge surrounding hills bristling with Red shore batteries.

Scheduling Program Set At School

Weather permitting, Stroudsburg High School's scheduling program for grades eight, nine, ten and 11 will be held this morning in the school gym.

Grades seven and 12 will not report to the school until afternoon classes begin.

During scheduling each student sits down with an assigned teacher, talks over his study program for the coming school year. If the student wishes to take "elective courses", he must then discuss those studies with the teacher in charge of the course.

The scheduling program is considered highly valuable by school officials, according to Alfred Munson, high school principal, since it

Hope in Harrisburg?

The picture in Harrisburg remains very black, indeed, but all is not lost.

The Democratic leader of the House, Rep. Hiram G. Andrews, of Johnstown, says his party will work with the Republicans in attempting to find a way out of the fiscal swamp. But Mr. Andrews tacks on a mighty important proviso:

"If they will cut as much fat out of the budget as possible."

It is only common sense that the Republican majority should perform that operation before saddling the taxpayers with any more burdens.

Surely, there are enough economy-minded Republicans in the House willing to slash costs before they would increase taxes. And surely there are enough like-minded Democrats to join with them in such a welcome venture.

If not, the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is in a very sad state indeed.

Along that line, it is noted that the Republican House leader, Albert W. Johnson, of Smethport, estimates that a one per cent consumer-absorbed sales tax would bring in $170,000,000 every two years.

Before passing such a tax, which would hit the little fellow much harder than others, it seems only logical and fair that the Legislature should find some way of cutting costs $170,000,000 instead of looking for a tax which would produce that amount.

Sequel of the Rabid Foxes

Last year about this time, the Pennsylvania State Game Commission was winding up a great crusade to eradicate foxes, which had roamed in various parts of the state threatening to spread rabies to whatever creature they bit.

The success or failure of that campaign was hard to determine at that time as wild foxes, poisoned unto death, were apt to take cover before life ended. There could be no accurate counting of carcasses. Only time as shown in a fall in incidence of rabies among other animals would be conclusive.

It may be too soon to jump to conclusions.

But in 1949, 31 creatures—farm animals and creatures of wood and dale—were found dead, definite victims of rabies. In 1950, the number soared to 102, then jumped to 241 in 1951; and last year marked a high of 300.

The score determined during January, February, March and April by the State Game Commission for 1953 now stands at a total of 11—three cows, two foxes, one cat and five dogs. These have been found, and there may have been many, many, more, as in earlier years.

As the tally stands, it appears that the anti-rabid fox campaign was a success. Our congratulations go to the State Game Commission.

The Once Over

—by H. I. Phillips

Down, Fido, Down!
An Albuquerque veterinarian says that dogs get ulcers from their masters. If you are the jumpy, nervous, high-tension type, your pooh will get that a way through an "association complex," he says. Our pooh, Imperial Twinklingham's Sultan III ("Rusty"), has been something of a problem pooh lately. This can be it. We've been worrying a lot about the way the pooh has been acting, and probably he has been worrying about the way we have been acting.

We are tense because of the global situation, the economic picture, Panmunjom and the awful weather. Come to think of it, "Rusty" has taken to growling and pacing the floor the minute we pick up our newspaper to scan the headlines. And we have no sooner turned to the stock tables than he has begun whining and acting in obvious distress. Our reactions are conveyed to him. It's the old association complex. The wife thinks she may have ulcers, too, and is inclined to blame them on both me and the dog. There have been a good many arguments in our house over whether a pooh should sleep at the foot of the bed, whether the newly upholstered divan should be out of bounds for him, whose turn it is to take him out for a walk and whether a dog can't be taught to eat regularly even if a wife omits chicken breast from his meals.

At any rate we decided to take "Rusty" to a dog psychiatrist. "Do you think I should take Imperial Twinklingham's Sultan III to a dog psychiatrist?" we asked the wife.

"Either that or the dog should take you to one," she replied.

Ignoring the crack, we took the dog. The psychiatrist had trouble getting the pooh to lie on a couch, relax and give expression to whatever thoughts came to his mind. We suggested that the doctor forget the couch and ask the dog to sit up, roll over, play dead, chase a rubber toy or fetch slippers, as the pup's education had been more along this line. The psychiatrist insisted upon sticking to the orthodox couch routine. The dog was equally obdurate. To break the deadlock we consented to lie on the couch, after the doctor had patted us on the head and coaxed us with a dog biscuit.

Robert S. Allen Reports

World Peace Pronouncement To Be Made By Churchill

Washington (AP)—Prime Minister Churchill will shortly make a momentous pronouncement on world peace.

His proposals will dovetail closely with the comprehensive peace program outlined by President Eisenhower in his historic address several weeks ago.

Secretary Dulles has told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

He disclosed the forthcoming significant development during a private discussion of what transpired at the recent Paris meeting of the NATO Council, which he attended. Dulles reported the President's speech won universal acclaim there.

Churchill is getting ready to present his government's position on this all-important matter, Dulles said. "He is waiting for a propitious occasion to do his talking. We are being kept advised on what is contemplated, and it is entirely in accord with the President's concepts."

Dulles indicated Churchill will probably deal directly with the widely-discussed question of a personal meeting between the Center and the Big Four.

The British have taken the lead in the closely-guarded undercurrents that are in progress on such a parley. The inside word is that these moves were the principal reason for the return to Moscow of former London Ambassador Andrei Gromyko.

He had a long talk with Churchill before departing. Diplomatic circles credit Gromyko with carrying a personal message from the British Prime Minister to the new Kremlin rulers. Much significance is attached to the unusual action of the British Ambassador's going to the Moscow airport to greet Gromyko when he arrived.

"I want to make it clear," explained Stephens, "that no one in our Department wanted to delay the opening of this Center for one moment. I personally thought it was bad business to do that. But in view of the stand taken by the Budget Director, we were more or less stymied for the time being."

"The effect of that directive," replied Dr. Scheele, "was to make it impossible for us to hire the personnel required to operate the Center. The order stated we could not hire personnel to fill positions that had not been filled before."

"I want to make it clear," explained Stephens, "that no one in our Department wanted to delay the opening of this Center for one moment. I personally thought it was bad business to do that. But in view of the stand taken by the Budget Director, we were more or less stymied for the time being."

"This Center is the only one of its kind in the world," declared Fogarty hotly. "It was built after long consideration by Congress. I think the Budget Bureau is going far afield when it holds up a project of this kind that Congress has repeatedly indicated it wants completed and put into operation. What the action of the Budget Director amounts to is not merely a delay of one month but of four or five months. What he has done is to prevent patients from being brought to this Center until August, if not later."

"I want the record to show," declared Busby, "that I agree 100 percent with what has just been said. The gentleman from Rhode Island and I don't agree often, but this is one time when we do see eye-to-eye. I think it is shocking that the opening of this great medical center on which Congress has spent $60,000,000 should be held up at the demand of one man."

Despite this bi-partisan lambasting, Director Dodge is still holding firm to his insistence that the budget for the Center be closely re-examined.

Panned Again—Budget Director Joseph Dodge is ruefully discovering that slashing government expenditures is a thankless job.

Latest demonstration of that occurred at a House Appropriations Subcommittee meeting where his determined economizing was berated on the ground it is delaying the opening of the U. S. Public Health Service's new $60,000,000 Clinical Center at Bethesda, Md.

"I want the record to show," declared Busby, "that I agree 100 percent with what has just been said. The gentleman from Rhode Island and I don't agree often, but this is one time when we do see eye-to-eye. I think it is shocking that the opening of this great medical center on which Congress has spent $60,000,000 should be held up at the demand of one man."

Good Salesman Has Security, Rotary Club Speaker Declares

If you are a good salesman, you need not worry about security—something everybody is worrying about today.

That's the opinion of Walter E. Brunauer, training director of the sales force of the Lilly Tulip Cup Corp.

He voiced it yesterday at a meeting of the Stroudsburgs Rotary Club. Mr. Brunauer was introduced by Jack Shinn, program chairman.

"If we are to accept the warning and advice of economists, the days to come are to be tough," Mr. Brunauer said.

They have said this over and over again and column after column has been saying "we must be ready," and then along comes a shortage here or there and again we are back to the sellers' market, Brunauer said.

Brunauer said it is coming to how much we produce, but how much we sell.

Salesmanship has no mystery about it, he cautioned. It's simply a matter of common sense—not the use of gimmicks or unusual flairs.

Selling can never be a science because the salesman is dealing with human beings. Techniques of good salesmanship are far from being new—they are the old basic standbys. The Lilly Tulip Cup executive cited some basic rules:

You do not sell the product, you sell what it will do. As an example he said 336,000 quarter inch drills were sold, not because that many people wanted drills—they wanted the perfect of the type of hole it made.

Salesman must know his product and know what he is talking about.

Forest Fire Danger Real Despite Rain

Intermittent rains have spared volunteer forest fire fighters so far this season but the dangers of fires still prevail. That is the way E. C. Pyle, district forester, summed up the situation yesterday.

Pyle, in announcing forest inspectors, rangers, tower personnel and volunteer fighters, urged motorists, to guard against throwing lighted cigarettes into foliage, and early campers to refrain from building large fires that easily get out of hand.

Working with the Delaware district again this year are forest rangers. In Monroe, Ellis E. Brush, East Stroudsburg RD 2, has the Snow Hill section; in Pike County, A. W. Luckey at Promised Land, Fred Stroud, Germantown, C. L. Raitt, Dingmans Ferry, and Clyde L. Raitt Jr., Marshalls Creek.

Seven towers under jurisdiction of the Stroudsburg headquarters for the department are located at Long Pond (Pohopoco tower); Tannersville (Big Pocono); Snow Hill (Dancing Ridge); and Delaware Water Gap in Monroe; Westfall Township (Buckhorn Ridge); Pecks Pond (High Knob) and Dry Meadow in Pike County.

Set for duty as forest inspectors are George W. Raish at Tannersville and Forrest C. Evans at Cresco in Monroe; W. B. Jagger of Dingmans Ferry in Pike County and Asa K. Shumaker at Portland in Northampton County.

In the district, which embraces all of Monroe and Pike Counties and the northern end of Northampton, are 62 volunteers who are ready to battle forest blazes. So far this season only a few fires broke out, and they were scattered around the region.

Werkheiser Honored By Faculty

Claude Werkheiser, retiring custodian of Stroudsburg Schools, was honored this week by the Stroudsburg Teachers Association at their annual spring banquet at the Fernwood.

Earl Groner, school superintendent, praised the work of Werkheiser who completes 17 years duty with the district when the school term ends next month. The superintendent presented the 70-year-old janitor with a purse.

Program chairman Numa Snyder introduced Groner. Invocation was by Alfred Munson, high school principal. James Anthony, association president, presided.

Table decorations in the May Day motif were arranged by the social committee headed by Mrs. Norman Dietrich, chairman.

Guests present for the occasion were Mrs. Werkheiser, Miss Grace Dreher, Henry Hester, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Booth and wives and husbands of faculty members.

Life of Riley

By JIM RILEY
Sports Editor

Rain, soggy fairways and the early date failed to dampen the spirits of 94 golfers in the 30th annual Invitation Golf Tournament at Shawnee-on-Delaware yesterday and the field battled old man par and the elements until after 7 p.m. For the first time since this score can remember, a local entry has a chance to make the championship bracket, although he must be one of two winners in a special sudden death playoff to be held at 8:45 this morning.

The local title hopeful is August "Augie" Lockwitch, long one of Glen Brook's top amateur performers. Lockwitch carded a 77 yesterday, along with three other entries.

The four must clash in a sudden death affair today, with only two scheduled to take part in the championship bracket. The top bracket will consist of 16 players and at the present time 18 names are included on the list. Two must be eliminated to reduce the field to its correct number.

Although the field of 94 golfers is terrific for this time of year, the original list included 118 names. Harry Obitz, head pro at the local resort, looks fit and ready for a tough season, after extensive travel through the United States during the winter months. Dick Farley, Stan Dudas, Jack Ryan and Rocco Coco are back at their familiar positions and the Shawnee course appears to be in its usual championship condition. The championship flight will play two rounds today and a single round tomorrow. The title struggle on Sunday will cover 36 holes or the number needed to decide the issue.

Bob Davies, star with the Rochester Royals, of the National Basketball Association, shot a 75 in yesterday's qualifying round and is a certain entry in the championship flight today. Davies doesn't appear a day older or a pound heavier than he was during his great college days at Seton Hall. Bob's putter was the chief reason for his low score yesterday. J. Woody Platt, Philadelphia veteran.

Five players tied for third with 78s. They were Tom Robins, Larchmont, N. Y., national senior champ; Bob Davies, Rochester, N. Y., Howard Everett, Atlantic City, former Philadelphia and Pennsylvania amateur king; Walter Hanan, Trenton, N. J., and W. Bupper, Baltimore.

Norman Staats, Easton, carded a 76.

In addition to Lockwitch, other Monroe County players and scores in the qualifying round were: Marty Baldwin, Stroudsburg, 92; Grant Nitrauer, Stroudsburg, 81; Harold Stomp, Stroudsburg, 81; Walter Peeney, East Stroudsburg, 87; Frank Patterson, Shawnee, 87; Col. Gordon Savage, Shawnee, 106; Larry Ross, East Stroudsburg, 88; Joe Barnes, Stroudsburg, 96; and William Galloway, East Stroudsburg, 95.

The championship flight will play two rounds today and one tomorrow. The final will cover 36 holes on Sunday.

Three County Games Listed

Three games are scheduled in the Monroe County Baseball League today and all are scheduled to get underway at 2 p.m.

League-leading Polis will be at home with Tobbyanna Township, the defending title holder. Polis has won both of its starts thus far this season, while TTHS has won one and lost the same number of games.

Tannersville

Barrett, also supporting a one-and-one record, will invade Tannersville to do battle with Pocono High. Pocono has lost its only game to date.

Chestnut Hill, with a one-and-one mark, will collide with Coolbaugh High, on the latter's home field in Tobbyanna. Coolbaugh has no wins and one loss on its present ledger.

The Monroe County League has won all of its regularly scheduled games on Friday.

Bushkill To Workout

Bushkill, member of the Pocono Mountains Baseball League, will hold a practice outing here today, at 5:30 p.m. In case of rain a business meeting will be held at "Rick's" DePue's Restaurant at 8 p.m.

Bratton Gains Verdict

Cleveland, O.—Sleek Johnny Bratton, gunning for a featherweight title bout, won a unanimous decision over elusive Licio Minelli of Italy last night in a 10-round bout in Cleveland Arena.

The Warriors will take a record of one victory and five setbacks into today's action. The lone win was at the expense of Kutztown, while Rider and Panzer inflicted two setbacks and the fifth came at the hands of Fairleigh-Dickinson.

Players

Coach Frank Grimm will select a starting team from a group including Joe Maiorillo, Dick McDonough, Bill Maiorillo, Roland Lutz, Bob Durkin, Craig Lehnerman, Don Tom, Carson Deffinbaugh and Tony Black.

Stroudsburg High is featuring a beautiful show case for its trophies. Several lockers were dismantled and a solid glass case was constructed to house the W. Main St. school's trophies, including the one awarded to the baseball team by the Lehigh Valley League last season. A fluorescent light sets the case off in outstanding fashion.

A promoter from Wilkes-Barre would like to present pro wrestling matches in the Stroudsburgs this summer. John Rhen finished in a tie for third place in the 880-yard run against Ithaca on Wednesday and it marked the first time in two weeks that the ESSTC track star had gone through his track paces. Rhen has been on the shelf with a pulled muscle of the leg. The weatherman is beginning to raise havoc with high school and college athletic schedules.

NOTICE

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN pursuant to Section 2 of the Act of June 23, 1947, P. L. 1145, as amended, that the inhabitants of the School District of Strand Township, Monroe County, Pennsylvania, intends to adopt a Resolution levying a $10.00 per capita tax for School purposes at a meeting of the Board of Directors of said School District to be held on the Twenty-third day of June, 1953, at the P. M. office of Eastern Standard Time, at Clearview School. The reason which the Judgment of the Board of Directors of the School District of Strand Township, necessitates the tax is that the present revenues of the School District are not sufficient to pay the necessary expenses of maintaining the school, pay the cost of repairs and maintenance of equipment, furniture and buildings, pay the cost of additional personnel transportation and pay a portion of the rental obligation of said School District under a contract with the State Public School Building Authority. The amount of revenue estimated to be derived from this tax is the sum of Twenty Two Thousand Dollars.

BY ORDER OF THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS
LORING H. CRAMER, President,
LILLIAN SHOOK, Secretary,
School District of Strand Township.

NOTICE

The polling place in the 4th Ward of Stroudsburg, Pa., has been changed from the Schellie & Kline Garage to the high school building in said borough.

here is a pleasant little game that will give you a message every day. It is a numerical puzzle designed to suit out your fortune. Count the letters in your first name. If the number of letters is 6 or more, subtract 4. If the number is less than 6, add 4. Then count the letters in your last name. Add or subtract the rectangle and check every one of your key numbers, left to right. Then add the message the letters under the checked figures give you.

A Tru Balance will control and reform your figure—yet you will never know you are wearing one. No boa-constricting. No strait-jacketing. No escaping lumps anywhere. No distortion when you move. Just a lovely, fluid, silhouette line that makes you look "to the figure born" . . . and taller.

It's all in the patented diagonal control. That is why Tru Balance does what no other girdle can do.
